

The 2010 Dublin Literacy Conference

Presents...

Parent and Student Author Sessions

Saturday, February 20, 2010

Dublin Coffman High School

Parent / Student Session

If The World Were A Village

9:15 a.m.-10:15a.m.

Featuring: David J. Smith

In this session, we will learn how to develop and expand our interests in the places and people of the world. We will explore how to collect data, conduct research and learn about the world community and our school communities. The session will include time for students' questions for the author.

Parent / Student Session

Stopmotion Movie Magic

1:30 p.m.-2:30 p.m.

Featuring: Kevin Hodgson

In this session, we will learn how to begin making a claymation movie at home or in school with free software and a webcam. The process involves writing a script, creating characters, and shooting a movie. If there is time, we will create a short stopmotion movie with ideas from the audience.

Registration Forms due by Monday, February 15, 2010.

Name: _____

Email address: _____

An email reminder will be sent the week prior to the Literature Conference.

(Sessions are free and limited to the first 100 participants.)

- Session with David J. Smith: # of adults _____ # of children attending _____ Session with Kevin Hodgson: # of adults _____ # of children attending _____

RSVP with the above information by email:
Andrea Smith at
smith_andrea@mail.dublin.k12.oh.us

Or RSVP by mail:
Becky Carta
Deer Run Elementary
8815 Avery Road
Dublin, OH 43017