

Dublin City Schools Language Arts Graded Course of Study Grade 2

Philosophy

The Dublin City Schools Language Arts Program is designed to set clear and consistent expectations through an integrated model of literacy in order to help support children in becoming proficient and passionate readers, writers, speakers, listeners, and thinkers. We believe students learn best when literacy learning is authentic. Assisting students in building the literacy skills necessary for college and career readiness remains a focus at every level. Through collaboration and communication, students will develop the literacy skills necessary for the future. By partnering with parents and community, we will support students as they develop the skills needed to successfully meet the literacy demands of the 21st century.

Program or Course Goals

Grade Two Language Arts instruction builds on the foundational literacy skills that were introduced at the Kindergarten and Grade One levels. Standards include reading literature and informational text, phonics, word study, vocabulary, grammar, fluent reading, producing narrative, informational and argumentative writings, speaking and listening. The Language Arts standards are explicitly taught and integrated within all subject areas throughout the day. Grade Two students in Dublin City Schools will be introduced to a wide variety of critical thinking, creativity and communication skills that will enhance literacy learning. Literature used in the classroom will include a variety of genre including an emphasis on fables and folktales from diverse cultures as well as book series. Students will begin to focus on dialogue and points of view through this literature. Versions of the same stories will be shared in order to allow students to compare and contrast the elements of each including a focus on different authors and cultures. Multi-paragraph nonfiction text will also be introduced to students. A variety of presentations of knowledge are supported within writing, including digital formats, along with a focus on sharing information through formal and informal speaking opportunities.

Common Core State Standards Strand: Reading Literature and Informational Text

To build a foundation for success students must read widely and deeply from increasingly challenging literary and informational texts such as but not limited to stories, dramas, poems and myths. Students must acquire the habits of reading independently and closely which are also essential for their future success.

College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards for Reading:

Key Ideas and Details

1. Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.
2. Determine central ideas or themes of a text and analyze their development; summarize the key supporting details and ideas.
3. Analyze how and why individuals, events, and ideas develop and interact over the course of a text.

Craft and Structure

4. Interpret words and phrases as they are used in a text, including determining technical, connotative, and figurative meanings, and analyze how specific word choices shape meaning or tone.
5. Analyze the structure of texts, including how specific sentences, paragraphs, and larger portions of the text (e.g., a section, chapter, scene, or stanza) relate to each other and the whole.
6. Assess how point of view or purpose shapes the content and style of a text.

Integration of Knowledge and Ideas

7. Integrate and evaluate content presented in diverse media and formats, including visually and quantitatively, as well as in words.
8. Delineate and evaluate the argument and specific claims in a text, including the validity of the reasoning as well as the relevance and sufficiency of the evidence.
9. Analyze how two or more texts address similar themes or topics in order to build knowledge or to compare the approaches the authors take.

Range of Reading and Level of Text complexity

10. Read and comprehend complex literary and informational texts independently and proficiently.

Common Core State Standards Strand: Reading Foundational Skills

These standards are directed toward fostering students' understanding and working knowledge of concepts of print, the alphabetic principle, and other basic conventions of the English writing system. These foundational skills are not an end in and of themselves; rather, they are necessary and important components of an effective, comprehensive reading program designed to develop proficient readers with the capacity to comprehend texts across a range of types and disciplines. Instruction should be differentiated: good readers will need much less practice with these concepts than struggling readers will. The point is to teach students what they need to learn and not what they already know—to discern when particular children or activities warrant more or less attention.

Grade 2 Content Standards for Reading Foundational Skills

Topic: Phonics and Word Recognition

3. Know and apply grade-level phonics and word analysis skills in decoding words.
 - a. Distinguish long and short vowels when reading regularly spelled one-syllable words.
 - b. Know spelling-sound correspondences for additional common vowel teams.
 - c. Decode regularly spelled two-syllable words with long vowels.
 - d. Decode words with common prefixes and suffixes.
 - e. Identify words with inconsistent but common spelling-sound correspondences.
 - f. Recognize and read grade-appropriate irregularly spelled words.

Topic: Fluency

4. Read with sufficient accuracy and fluency to support comprehension.
 - a. Read grade-level text with purpose and understanding.
 - b. Read grade-level text orally with accuracy, appropriate rate, and expression.
 - c. Use context to confirm or self-correct word recognition and understanding, rereading as necessary.
